Credits for Specialists: This event is an Accredited Group Learning Activity (Section 1) as defined by the Maintenance of Certification program of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, and approved by Queen's University

Learning Objectives:

1. To discuss the results of recent clinical trials in controlling symptoms of patients with cancer and the potential for translating this new knowledge
2. To discuss the role of psychosocial and other interventions such as psilocybin to alleviate cancer symptoms, improve treatment-related outcomes, and improve overall patient experience
3. To identify opportunities to expand the use of palliative radiotherapy for the management of symptoms
4. To discuss clinical trials in the field of early palliative care and to consider opportunities for research to support caregivers of cancer patients.
5. To identify opportunities to integrate new measurement methodologies and/or correlative science in supportive care trials.
