Maria Ricci Memorial Lectureship in Medical Oncology

Queen's UNIVERSITY

The Oxford Overview – Is it still relevant in 2010?

Dr. Kathleen Pritchard, MD, FRCP(C)

Dr. Kathleen Pritchard's research interests include clinical trials and translational approaches in the areas of adjuvant therapy, hormonal therapy, chemotherapy and optimal locoregional therapy for breast cancer. From 1994-2008, Dr. Pritchard served as Chair of the NCIC Clinical Trials Group Trials Breast Cancer Site Committee.

In 2005, Dr. Pritchard was awarded the O. Harold Warwick Prize for Cancer Control in Canada by the Canadian Cancer Society and the former National Cancer Institute of Canada for her work in clinical and translational trials in breast cancer. She is currently the Clinical Co-Chair of the Early Breast Cancer Trialists Collaborative Group (EBCTCG) Oxford Overview.

Dr. Pritchard is a Professor of Medicine at the University of Toronto, with cross-appointments in the Departments of Health Policy, Management and Evaluation and Public Health Sciences. She is Clinical Director of the Ontario Clinical Oncology Group and Senior Scientist at the Sunnybrook Odette Regional Cancer Centre at Sunnybrook Health Sciences Centre in Toronto.
